VISION Becoming an Innovation Hub

With over 50% of the world's population urbanized for the first time in history, we are entering the new era, where urban spaces will turn into the imperative areas of social, cultural and economic value.

They will play a key role in keeping people connected, healthy and happy.

THE PLACEMAKERS, with its know-how, the latest manufacturing technologies and years of research, aims to become an innovation hub designing with citizen-first mentality, infusing spaces with a sense of place & purpose.

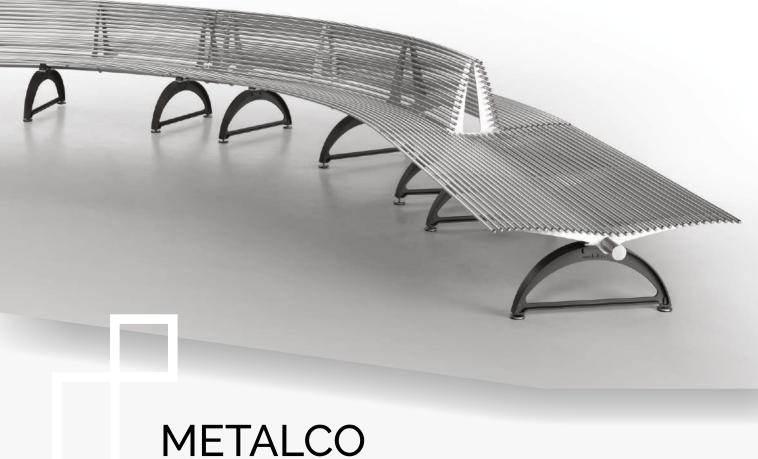

MISSION Making spaces living places

The main focus when developing the outdoor spaces and cities of the future should be citizens and their wellbeing.

It's not just about implementing new services, promoting better urban design or increasing greater usability of existing technologies. It's about enhancing interactions between people and creating just the right conditions for them to socialize, work and play within a particular space, blurring the line between public and private spaces.

THE PLACEMAKERS is committed in creating high-design, functional and innovative urban furniture and outdoor fitness equipments for cities and public environments thanks to an own R&D department, an innovation lab, highly qualified manufacturing personnel and collaborations with urban architects, engineers, smart city municipalities, universities, opinion makers and trend setters, involved in rethinking and redesigning the role of
