

LOVATO

LOVATO

presents Guto Índio da Costa

For more than 15 years we have been creating bright outdoor furniture with smart concepts that adapts to lifestyles, integrate environments, and inspire possibilities of use.

From our choice of materials, through the finishing touches to the final product, we see timelessness as a path to a more sustainable life. That's why our furniture is essentially durable, free from excesses and designed to resist time and weather.

The talents who sign for Lovato carry these same principles with them, challenging common sense to create functional, relevant and high quality pieces.

For the third consecutive year, we are at the Milan Design Week - this time, adding our innovative materials to the collections of brazilian designer Guto Índio da Costa.
